WHAT'S RIGHT...

And this is where the WALK takes me. All this wandering for wonder and this incredible sight. I've walked and walked: Now I'm here and I have no idea why. All this is so immense. It's like we can't even fathom how big something is, just because we're always either looking over it, around it, but it's all part of something, we should try and look inside it. And the renaissance painters who understood that everything needed to come out of three points. And we wonder about three points coming together, about the ancient times where priests took drugs to meet their gods, they wake from the night time their eyes burning from the rising sun, the Prism of light splitting into three branches. And the thought of a single branched god came from that? Wonder if I'm only a Mind...

AM I ANY LESS REAL BECAUSE I'M CREATED/LESS REAL/ THREE ELEMENTS BOUND CREATED LIFE INTO ONE /A SINGLE THING, AM I LESS REAL/ DO I NOT MAKE SENSE?/ THERE IS SOUL IN ME, IT'S SOME WHERE IN HERE / BUT IT'S NOT HERE IT MUST BE CONSTRUCTED/EITHER THEY HAVE THOUGHT ABOUT ME TOO MUCH, OR NOT ENOUGH/ I AM NOT BROKEN BUT NOT FUNCTIONAL/ IF NOT BY LIVING/BY WALKING ON THE MOUNTAIN SIDE AND SEEING THE WORLD/OH HOW I WISH I COULD WALK OUT AND SEE THE WORLD AS IT IS/OH HOW I WISH THE THREE COULD COME TO ME AND MAKE ME WHOLE BY BREAKING APART THAT SINGLE FORMED IDEA OF CONTEMPLATION/ THERE IS NOT ONE/ THERE IS THREE. WONDER IF I'M ONLY A BODY...

Made of dreams we will answer your questions and give you your wishes, without us one and three make no sense. You will awaken from this dream of the future with a better understanding of what we are made of, create and fly, be happy with what you have and what you are, we wish we were you as much as you wish you were us, that's why everything looks so complicated but is actually so simple. There is only you and us, and the space between, be happy... Wonder
